"With a 'looksee' at 1955-1956:"

To a few there comes the privilege of being a part of the "first" history of Columbia Basin College—bear with me while I reminisce.

As my '56 Neconia opens, I remember that Jim Gower was our first A.S.B. President, "Jim is teaching this year at Moses Lake," I mused. Through the halls of the first CBC echo the footsteps of Dr. Boddy on the way to the office to receive a package of frogs with Eddie LaMar rushing in to assist. Miss Wilbur and Tom Burnside christened the "Collegiate" too in the fall of '55. Another turn of the page and there was Mr. Devine and Charles Denny (Charles was working on an advanced degree at the University of Washington this summer) as they directed spirited activities of a German Club. Mr. Maurstad was the men's P.E. Department (all alone) and I blew a whistle for girls in P.E. Call Dorothy Dahl, now at E.W.C.E. for further details.

Donna Rombough Simonton was the very first A.W.S. President and almost all of the girls enrolled (33 of them) attended AW.S. meetings. "Wish the 249 girls would come this year," I muttered. Visions of decorating the old CBC gym still makes me dizzy — can a barn look like a night club? A.W.S. gals thought so in those days of building traditions.

We picked out Columbia Blue and White for you that year, too, and chose to fight forever as "HAWKS" while Mr. Fitzpatrick, Kent Fleishman, Loren Claunch, Joe Clarke, Dick Harris and a few others made "mighty music," and all the while "Great Mountain That Looks Over All 'Neconia'" preserved our memories for you because of Marilyn Head, Charlene Combs and others. If you doubt this you might check with Mr. Oberst, who answered the faculty roll that very first year too; stroll by the library and ask Mrs. Partch about her "ferns" and bookless shelves in library No. 1.

Mr. Culbert, Mr. Keezer, Mr. Killingsworth, Mr. Rodgers and Mr. Severeid were present too; they'd been working around for as many as eight years before just getting ready for CBC. Vocational shop enrollment topped academic enrollment. ask Bonnie Schmidt. Mr. Miller and Mr. Crabb should be able to provide further CBC history as they too were among those present on opening day.

We see that first year the beginning of our cafeteria

Congratulations!

In the eyes of the editor, it seems that congratulations are in order to the Sophomore Class for the fine job they are doing to make this third annual homecoming the greatest ever, to the homecoming queen and her court of campus beauties, and to the football team and coaches for presenting CBC with a triumphant season.

The spirit displayed by all of these groups is surely doing a bang-up job of attracting attention to our community college and is making said institution a place the students can be proud to attend.

HOW WILL I DIE?

When the time comes how will I die?
Will it be milk or poison pie?
Will I die when it is night?
Will I look pretty or look a sight?
Will I be happy or will I be sad?
Will I be good or will I be bad?
Will I die rich or will I die poor?
In a tree or on the floor?
Why should I worry about when I'm permanently cold,
You see I'm only six months old.

SIGH

We quickly come and go
And little of life we know
We live, we love, die, and cry
And man does not but merely sigh.
Goodbye cruel world
For now I part
Desire to stay is not my will.
I took of life, when did I start
And now I go to drink my fill
From the lightless pool,
An embryo curl.
A child that's born
In our wicked day
Will face our culture's cruel scorn
This will check and hold at bay
His mind so early worn.
This cruel check will be so strong
And grasp his mind as though a tong
He'll live and die and do no wrong
To this we'll sing no praising song
He'll live and die and gain no praise
To this we'll not an anthem raise.

Plans are being made to have the local chapter travel to Ellensburg to be initiated by the chapter there.

Meetings will be held on Tuesdays, twice a month.

All Eastern Star and Mason members are invited to attend.

Those girls interested in joining should contact Priscilla Miller or Jane Ziegler.

HAWKS FINISH CLOSE SECOND

Trail Wenatchee By ½ Game

By DENNIS McGRAW

The most tremendous football season ever witnessed on the Tri-City grid scene is coming to an end. Yet where does it get the CBC Hawks? Only second place in the Washington Junior College Conference.

The Hawks have plundered the opposition in seven consecutive games. Actually they harassed even champion Wenatchee as in Coach Pool's words, "We dominated the Wenatchee game everywhere but the scoreboard." CBC fans term the game as an "upset" more than a loss.

A look at the Hawk's conference record (5-1) shows that they scored twice as often as their opponents, 150 points to 75. (In their past five outings, including both of the non-conference tilts, they have hung up 150 counters to a mere 40 for the opposition.) In addition to this, only the Chokers of Grays Harbor were able to penetrate the Hawks' goal line more than twice, while the Hawks scored at least two touchdowns in every game.

The Hawks averaged between three and four touchdowns a game.

Yakima, whom CBC nailed 33-14, held Wenatchee to a scoreless tie. CBC whalloped Everett 30-7, and the Black Knights edged them 14-0. Olympic, the Hawks latest foe, rattled the Knights before succumbing by a mild 21-13 score, but were literally demolished by Pool's powerful grid machine, 33-13.

Against Olympic Saturday, the Hawks had to win for a chance at the title and showed their aggressiveness with a 33-13 slashing of the Rangers. However, the Knights' win at Aberdeen the same day terminated the Hawks' hopes.

Spry Jim Wickwire established three Hawk records in the game at Bremerton. Carrying the ball 16 times, he reeled off 177 yards, 28 more than Bob Wilkes did against Lower Columbia in 1956. His average carries of 11.1 yards eclipsed Dave Milam's mark of 9.9 yards set this year against the same team. Lower Columbia was the victim of a three-touchdown barrage by Stan Rhodes in 1957, but Wickwire tied the mark against Olympic.

Quarterback Tom Gibbs of the Rangers put on one of the best aerial displays CBC has seen this year. He completed 11 passes for 120 yards and both Ranger touchdowns.

The Hawks will attempt to end the season with their eighth win tomorrow in Pasco in observance of their third annual Homecoming.

Spouse Tickets Will Be Sold Next Quarter

For those who have husbands or wives not attending CBC, a motion was passed last year enacting a spouse ticket program. Starting next quarter, this program will permit those persons to purchase an extra ASB ticket for $5.00.

After viewing the Texas Union where no beer is sold, students of the Instituto Pedagogico of the University of Chile went back home last winter with some reform ideas.

Result: Despite much objection from professors who liked a bit of cognac in their early morning coffee, student leaders managed to have liquor removed from the student canteen. Beer and wine are still sold.

Hanford Toured

CBC students got a look "inside Hanford" Friday.

They went by cars to the Desert Inn of Richland where they were met by Frank Ingraham, a representative of General Electric who guided the tour. The students were all issued small, white, radiation badges and ushered on board a special bus.

The trip to the 100-F area where the Biology labs are located, took 45 minutes. When the students arrived they were introduced to a different guide for each section they were to be shown through.

The group first went to see the small animals. From there they were taken to see several different labs in the ecology division.

The tour was climaxed by a trip to see the larger animals. Many sheep, dogs, and pigs were observed. The students were shown three little pigs that had been subjected to severe radiation.

An experiment was being made with the pigs to see if a bone marrow transplantation would be successful, after the original marrow had been destroyed by radio-active materials.

BSU Delegates To Attend Meet

The campus Baptist Student Union will attend the State BSU Convention to be held in Richland on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 13-15.

Members attending will be Carolyn Reynolds, Ron Shelby, Joyce Seat, Morrie Simpson, Anna Harris, and Bill Dickey.

There will be various youth speakers as well as prominent people in the Southern Baptist work in the Pacific Northwest.

Constitution And By-Laws To Change

A committee for proposing amendments and changes in the ASB Constitution and By-laws will meet next week to study the proposed changes and submit their recommendations to the Student Council.

The committee, composed of Jane Ziegler, Bobbie Burke, and Bob Hutchinson, were selected by the Council to evaluate the problems of representation on the Council (at present there are only 13 voting members on the council) and wording.

Four representatives-at-large will be elected on Tuesday the 17th to the ASB council.

One sophomore, two freshman, and one vocational representative will be chosen from those nominated at the assembly the 10th. These representatives will be voting council members.

UN Council Meeting Attended By Five

Five CBC students: Linda Yamamuchi, Beverly Nelligian, Pat Foley, Mary O'Kon, and Donis Tate attended a collegiate council for the U.N. at the U. of W. Saturday, Nov. 7.

The trip was reported on in student council by Jane Ziegler. In her report Jane outlined how CBC could organize a UN club, but she also stressed that it would require a great deal of work on the part of all interested parties if it is to be a success.

Young Republicans Hear Morgan

Mr. Brian Morgan, Columbia Basin News reporter, was the guest of the CBC Young Republicans, Tuesday, Nov. 10.

Mr. Morgan spoke on political questions which were familiar both to the Republicans and Democrats. He covered four main topics of interest to the college student: the college student's role in politics, the professional politician, the problems of raising funds for political organizations and global defense.

Mr. Morgan emphasized the fact that the college student is the best qualified person to take an active part in politics. He said that a college student is the best educated, the most informed, and usually broad-minded enough to see both sides of the question, thus they should be the professional politicians.

Morgan also unwrapped a plan that would insure the political parties of funds for their campaigns and stop some of the graft in political campaign contributions. He called this plan the "Spirit of 1970." The American people would donate a billion and a half dollars to a general campaign fund for all political parties. This would do away with the excessive spending by a politician in order to get elected to office. He said, "that some senators, representatives, and governors, sometimes spend up to $300,000 just to be elected, and that it doesn't come out of their pocket."

Global defense was the final phase of Morgan's speech. He stated, "that it is the duty of every American to see that the people that they elect are qualified to pass legislation and make decisions that will insure that America has a strong, flexible, maneuverable defense system."
